

Privacy Policy

Uberwriters, LLC is committed to protecting your privacy. The following discloses our policies regarding our use of user information generated from this web site. Because this policy may change from time to time, we suggest you check back periodically.

What Information Do We Collect From You?

Uberwriters, LLC collects and stores only the information that you knowingly provide to us using this site's registration, contact and technical support form(s). We may request additional information if you order a product or service, request information, or participate in a survey or contest via this site. Additionally, your IP address may be logged and used to provide better fraud prevention and to gather broad demographic information to help us improve our site's content. Your sole option, if you do not wish to provide all requested information, is to not participate in this web site. This site may contain links to other sites. Uberwriters, LLC is not responsible for the privacy practices or content of such web sites.

How Is Your Information Used?

We do not sell, rent, provide or otherwise share your personal information with any third parties, except under the request of an authoritative government body or court. Uberwriters, LLC may use information you have disclosed to us for the following reasons:

- * To send you information about our company, products or services.
- * To send you registration details about a purchase of a product or service.
- * To investigate fraudulent purchases and behavior.
- * To help diagnose problems with our servers.
- * To administer our web site.

How Can You Contact Uberwriters, LLC?

If you would like to change information that you have provided us, or have questions about our privacy statement, terms of use or website, please feel free to contact us.